Providing Care Today!

A Letter from our Executive Director

When insidious symptoms of memory loss and confusion lead to the most feared diagnosis of Alzheimer's, poignant questions arise. Among them: who will walk this journey with me? Where can I turn for help? Because of our generous donors, Alzheimer's of Central Alabama ministers to families looking for answers. While we support research as part of our mission, we are not stubbornly waiting for a cure; we are embracing the need for care today!

Our mission encompasses research, education, advocacy, and service. Our services dovetail the stages of the disease, as patients progress from needing supervision to custodial care to nursing care. In 2017, we helped families maintain their loved one at home by offering:

- Project Lifesaver Bracelets for patients at risk for wandering
- Adult Day Care Scholarships allowing 75 patients to attend the day care of their family's choice
- Continence Product Scholarships serving 116 patients with home delivered products each month

With 34% of our budget supporting adult day care centers in our area, we are investing in quality of life! No one wants to see their vulnerable loved one living in isolation parked in front of the TV. We now know patients thrive on a routine of varied activities. The brain synapses that dwindle from under use are rekindled by positive interaction and engagement.

Since ACA's inception 26 years ago, we have seen a dramatic rise in the number of patients in need of support - from just over 50,000 to almost 90,000 today. And the number diagnosed is expected to increase 40% by 2030. Our ministry is needed now more than ever!

Our mission is in providing care for those who are diagnosed and who crave reassurance and reaffirmation that they are valued and loved. Care for family members who are exhausted in mind, body and spirit. And care for those who find purpose as volunteers. Thank you for being a part of the good work we are doing.

Make a good memory,

Miller Piggott
Executive Director
