

SCHOOL OF NURSING
The University of Alabama at Birmingham

UAB MINI-CONFERENCE

THIS STUFF REALLY WORKS:
SUCCESSFUL STRATEGIES FOR PREVENTING
AND MANAGING DIFFICULT DEMENTIA BEHAVIORS

Friday, March 27, 2020

8:30 am-3:30 pm

UAB School of Nursing, Room 1056

$175.00 - Healthcare providers, nurse educators

$150.00 Early Bird Special
(December 1, 2019 – March 1, 2020)

$50.00 - Caregivers (no CEU credit available)

REGISTER NOW

OBJECTIVES

- Identify types of dementia
- Understand the neurobiology of dementia
- Apply strategies to prevent and manage care-resistant behaviors
- Develop skill in pharmacologic management of dementia-related behaviors

People living with dementia often refuse or reject care which distresses formal and informal caregivers. Our approach often makes these behaviors worse. This mini-con will help you to prevent and manage care-resistant behavior in a manner that respects the dignity and personhood of the older adult.

PRESENTED BY

Rita Jablonski, PhD, CRNP, FGSA, FAAN

CEUs: application in-progress

For more information, contact askSONCE@uab.edu.